Environmentally responsible way to eliminate biting bugs
PLUS

Natural pest control for your environmentally conscious consumers

Designed by experts in the field of pest-borne diseases, Skeeter Plus™ utilizes scientific and non-toxic chemical engineering to create what may be the world's most effective pest trap. By Placing Skeeter Plus™ in the yard at the beginning of the mosquito season, and by using multiple attractants, including carbon dioxide, Skeeter Plus™ is the environmentally responsible way to eliminate biting bugs.

This product represents a unique merger of knowledge and innovation. Unlike many other products on the market, Skeeter Plus™ is easily assembled and was designed for the socially-conscious consumer. As a result, we have taken efforts to design a recipe using everyday household ingredients and used post-consumer material for packaging. Easy to follow assembly feature step by step instructions and photos.
